CARRIED GUNS.

An Attempt to Mob the Umpire Met With Bullets.

He Opened a Valise and Handed Revolvers to His Favorite Team.

A Riot Follows in Which Six Men Were More or Less Severely Wounded, One an Innocent Bystander—Two or Three of the Wounded May Die.

POPULAR GROVE, Ark., Aug. 18.—Negroes from the Polk and the Lowry plantations met here to play a ball game for a stake of $5. William Griffin, the umpire, and an adherent of the Polk side, held the stakes. In the third inning Griffin gave a close decision on a slide to third base, which greatly incensed the Popular Grovelles, who rushed in a body upon the umpire and his son, the latter being the scorer for the game.

The umpire grabbed up a valise which he had brought along, opened it and disclosed several loaded pistols, which he handed out to the men of his side.

Instantly the shooting began, and when it ended six men were found to have been more or less severely wounded. Israel Tate, of the Popular Grove crowd, was the only man on that side who had a gun.

He emptied his pistol, retreated, reloaded and emptied it again. He is credited with having shot four men. The only damage done by the Polk crowd was the shooting of an innocent bystander, Jack Robertson, whose left thigh was broken and who is expected to die.

Deputy Sheriff Finis McCoy summoned a posse and arrested as many of the participants as he could find.

The wounded: Wm. Anderson, shot through the thigh; Summer Sugenor, shot through the side; unknown Negro from North Creek, shot in the ankle; two Negroes from the Lowry plantation, shot in the leg; Jack Robertson, of Popular Grove, badly shot through the breast.

Anderson, Sugenor and Robertson will die.

Israel Tate and Will Griffin, the leaders of the respective sides were unhurt, and Griffin carried off the stake money in the melee. Deputy McCoy brought in several of the Negroes Monday and lodged them in jail.

AUTHORESS DEAD.

Mary Abigail Dodge (Gail Hamilton) Dies at Her Home in Hamilton, Mass.

WENHAM, Mass., Aug. 18.—Mary Abigail Dodge ("Gail Hamilton") died at 8:55 Monday night without regaining consciousness since she was stricken Sunday morning.

Her illness dates from Sunday morning, when seated at the breakfast table she suffered a stroke of paralysis, which was at once declared by her physician, Dr. Thayer, to be probably fatal. Dr. Thayer, in fact, did not expect his patient would live the day out, but she surprised all by lingering until Monday evening.

Miss Dodge was possessed of remarkable vitality, which alone enabled her to recover from the serious stroke of paralysis with which she was attacked while staying with the Blaines in Washington in May, 1895.

When Miss Dodge had once more regained her health, which never again became as robust as before her illness, she came to her birthplace, Hamilton, where she remained until her death.

ANGRY MOB

Of Chileans Makes an Attack on Prince Louis, of Savoy,

The Officers and a Part of the Crew of the Christoforo Colombo.

The Prince Was Hurried to a Place of Safety, But Several Seamen Were Struck by Stones and Knocked Down With Clubs—Several Arrests Made.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—News of an attack in the streets of Valparaiso on the 16th of last month by a Chilean mob upon Prince Louis of Savoy, nephew of King Humbert of Italy, and a party of officers and some of the crew of the Italian war ship Christoforo Colombo, all the facts of which were suppressed by the government, was received here by the steamer City of Para, says the Bulletin, Monday evening.

The Christoforo Colombo sailed from San Francisco for South America via Honolulu some time in February. The object of her visit to Chili was to insure that country that Italy has none but the best of feeling for the southern republic, as much bitterness of feeling has existed in Chili since Italy sold the Argentine Republic two cruisers. The sale was consummated at a very shaky crisis, for Argentine and Chili were on the verge of war over the boundary question.

The Christoforo Colombo fulfilled her mission.

The "squaring" was well accepted by the better classes, but among the rabble the apology was not accepted. Hence the trouble. A party from the Christoforo Colombo landed at the Valparaiso pier and proceeded up town. The prince and several lieutenants were in the lead. A number of Italian sailors were immediately behind the officers. A crowd of Chileans followed the man-of-war men, occasionally jeering the sailors. As the party advanced the crowd grew larger and bolder. Suddenly stones commenced to fly, and for safety's sake the prince was hurried into a store out of harm's way.

The able seamen did not fare so well. Several were struck with stones and knocked down with clubs. They fought back, pulled their knives, which they luckily had with them, and held the mob at bay until a body of police came charging down the street. The mob soon scattered. A number of arrests were made.

The Chilean authorities lost no time in hurrying an apology to Prince Louis. Every reparation was promised.

The Colombo's crew was not used up very badly, and as there was commercial advantages to be obtained for their countrymen, the Italians agreed to accept the apologies.

Building Collapse.

EAC CLARE, Wis., Aug. 18.—For the past two weeks the Music hall block, the principal business block in this city, has been undergoing a remodeling. Halvor Oleson, foreman for the Madison Street Manufacturing Co. was taken from the ruins dead, and fifteen others seriously injured. Wm. Dean, an officer of the Phoenix Manufacturing Co., and Nicholas Roach, an employee, are buried in the ruins, and supposed to be dead, as well as a number of other employees of contracting firms.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Thomas Devany, one of the Irish dynamiters, who in Edinburgh in 1888, was sentenced to penal servitude for life, was released from Portland prison Monday morning. Immediately after his release Devany took a train for Glasgow.

The Gold Reserve.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The treasury gold reserve at the close of business Monday stood at $105,113,702. The day's withdrawals were $50,800. The decline of over $1,000,000 since Saturday is due to the fact that $1,000,000 was withdrawn in San Francisco last Monday and only taken out Monday. Daily withdrawals as given out at the treasury mean "withdrawals of gold at New York" only.

Early Monday morning Lundy was arrested at his home, not far from which Rothacher was found. In front of the house was Charles Rothacher, of New York, a brother of the injured man. He was abusing Lundy and was also arrested. Lundy said he acted in self-defense; that the two Rothachers had abused him on the street car until he left his seat and went to the platform. He got off at his street and they followed and attacked him and knocked him down. Then he used his knife in self-defense. He said Rothacher had had a grudge against him ever since he defended his wife in a divorce suit which was compromised.
